Camp Philosophy

The mission of Bird Conservancy of the Rockies Summer Bird Camps is to engage children in conserving birds and their habitats, while connecting them with nature. Children are taught through hands-on learning activities and direct experiences to help them develop a deeper awareness, enjoyment, and respect for all wildlife and their habitats.

About Taking Flight...

If your child likes to spend time outdoors, then this is the right camp! This overnight camp is the next step for budding birders who also enjoy outdoor adventure and nature exploration. For 6 days and 5 nights, campers will call a rustic lodge near Rocky Mountain National Park their home, and they will have the opportunity to explore the ecosystems of Colorado's Front Range, while honing their bird identification and leadership skills, gaining independence and responsibility, making new friends, and making a difference in the world around them.

Taking Flight was developed to provide a transition between Bird Conservancy's Day Camps and its award winning, historic research and trip-based program, On the Wing. While not as intensive or research-focused, Taking Flight will focus on the education of campers, and has been designed to take campers' birding, identification, observation skills, and leadership skills to the next level.

About On the Wing...

This award winning camp is the capstone experience for Bird Conservancy campers, as it is for 15-17 year-olds, many of whom have grown up attending Bird Conservancy's Summer Bird Camps. On the Wing was developed in 1993 and has offered hundreds of participants the opportunity to learn first-hand about birds and the research process. In the past, campers have come from all over the United States, and as far away as Canada and Mexico, to take part in this unique program.

During On the Wing programs, campers study Colorado ecosystems, meet and work with professional biologists and researchers, and observe birds while exploring Colorado's diverse array of habitats. The main focus of On the Wing is camper research projects, which are designed, performed, and presented to the public by the campers. Campers work with Bird Conservancy staff and other professionals to become familiar with different research techniques and methods for presenting results. Research projects are generally conducted in small groups of 2-4 campers, who work together to form a question, develop a hypothesis, design a data-collection form, gather and interpret their results, and write a technical paper. Campers present their work to Bird Conservancy staff members and the general public at the end of their session.

COVID-19 Policy for Bird Conservancy of the Rockies and Highlands Presbyterian Camp & Retreat Center

As Bird Conservancy and Highlands prepares for camps to return we want to share the steps we are taking to protect our guests and staff. The safety of Highlands' guests and staff has always been a priority. During this time of COVID 19 we are taking extra precautions to ensure this safety.

Vaccination Requirements: We require campers and staff to be FULLY immunized (using state guidelines for schools) before overnight camp begins. Campers and staff who qualify for a medical exemption must provide a physician's note documenting the exemption and will be allowed at camp if a reasonable accommodation can be made.

Vaccines for COVID will be required.

These guidelines will continue to change based on updated CDC, State and local guidelines.

Highlands will continue a high level of cleaning and sanitization in all areas. Check in is at 4:00 PM and check out is at 10:00 AM – to allow sufficient time for cleaning, early arrivals and late departures may not be available

It is the responsibility of group leaders to:

- Communicate Highlands Covid Policies to their group.
- Request that anyone who is ill does not come to Highlands.
- Assure compliance with Highlands Covid Policies while the group is on site.
- Notify Highlands if someone in the groups gets sick with Covid 19 within 48 hours of departure from Highlands.

Current Covid restrictions:

- Masks may be required to be worn inside based on current CDC and State/Local Guidelines.

Meeting and Dining Space:

- We will continue to set rooms with as much distance as possible between tables.

Lodging:

- Retreat Center rooms may be booked to the capacity of the room, though we strongly recommend no more than 4 people per room.
- Guest group leaders will determine how many people will stay in each room.
- Cabins may be booked to maximum occupancy.

*If campers are traveling from out of state you must follow current CDC Travel Guidelines for Colorado which may include a quarantine period, testing etc.. Please contact Becky at becky.heath@birdconservancy.org or (303)659-4348 x 49 if you have any questions.

These policies will be evolving as needed per state and county health guidelines. Parents will be notified of any pertinent changes

Introducing Bird Conservancy's Overnight Camp Staff

Becky Heath, Camp Manager

Becky grew up in upstate New York before moving to mid coastal Maine, where she earned her degree in Marine Biology from Unity College. Summers were spent there working as a Camp Counselor & Day Camp Coordinator and fostered a love of experiential education in the camp setting. After graduation, she made the move to the greater Houston area where she worked in several camp roles from Discovery Instructor to Camp Director. Becky is looking forward to working and learning from campers and fellow staff as she takes on the Camp Manager role at the Bird Conservancy of the Rockies. Outside of work, Becky enjoys hiking and camping with her dog as well as avidly knitting sweaters.

Kathleen Lich, Environmental Educator

Kathleen earned a Bachelor's Degree in Environmental Sustainability Studies and Geography from Indiana University. During her time at IU, she worked for the Critical Food Studies Lab and spent her summers as an environmental educator in Alaska. Please plan to arrive early, as we will be utilizing the first hour to double check all paperwork, intake medications, perform basic health screens, pack vans, and ensure that participants are completely prepared for their experience prior to departing for our base camp destination at Highlands Presbyterian Camp and Retreat Center in Allenspark.

At 12 p.m., camp will formally begin for campers with a picnic lunch (EACH CAMPER MUST BRING A SACK LUNCH FOR THIS FIRST MEAL), introductions, icebreakers, and a basic orientation of Bird Conservancy and the week's activities. A message will be left if they are not reached.

In addition, any parent or guardian picking up their child after the 15-minute grace period and has not been in contact with Bird Conservancy staff will be charged a late fee of $1 per minute per child, which is due at that time.

In the event that a child is not picked up within 30 minutes of the end of the program, Bird Conservancy staff will notify each person on the authorized pick-up list until someone contacted can pick up the child. In case of an emergency or you wish to get a message to the program, the best way to reach Bird Conservancy Overnight Camp staff is by calling the main number of Highlands Presbyterian Camp and Retreat Center: 303-747-2888. If a call comes in outside of normal business hours, please leave a message, and the receptionist will pass it along to Bird Conservancy staff. In addition, you can try Becky's cell phone number, which is (936) 994-0242. However, reception at Highlands and in areas of field trips will be spotty, at best. Text messages from iPhones work best to contact me.

If you need to contact Bird Conservancy staff for any reason outside of an emergency, you may send an email to becky.heath@birdconservancy.org. Staff will be checking emails intermittently throughout the week. If you would like to speak directly with a Bird Conservancy staff member at the Brighton office, please contact Sherry Nickolaus, our Education Director, at (303) 659-4348 x 11.

Communication With Your Camper

You are encouraged to correspond by mail with your child during their week at Taking Flight or On the Wing. However, please know that campers will be extremely busy during their entire session and will, therefore, have very little opportunity to reply or give much attention to correspondence. All letters and/or packages should be sent no later than the third day of the camp session and addressed to your child as indicated below:

Camper Name

c/o Bird Conservancy of the Rockies

Highlands Presbyterian Camp
P.O. Box 66
Allenspark, CO 80510

Please refrain from sending packages with food, candy, gum, snacks, etc. A great alternative is to send your child a non-food care package. Campers are allowed to take ONLY non-food item packages to their cabin or group areas.

You may also email your child at campermail@birdconservancy.org. Emails will be handed out daily.

NOTE: PLEASE DO NOT TELL YOUR CHILDREN TO CALL YOU IF THEY ARE HOMESICK!

Bird Conservancy of the Rockies Summer Camp Licensing information

Most licensed facilities make every effort to provide a safe and healthy environment for children. Unfortunately, on rare occasion, an incident of physical or sexual abuse may occur. If you believe that your child has been abused, you should seek immediate assistance from the county Department of Social Services. The telephone number to report child abuse in Boulder County is 303.441.1000.

Child Care services play an important role in supporting families, and strong families are the basis of a thriving community. Your child's education, physical, emotional, and social development will be nurtured in a well-planned and well-run program. We invite you to observe our program, especially with regard to children's health and safety, equipment and play materials, and staff.

For additional information regarding licensing or if you have concerns about a child care facility, please consult the Colorado Office of Early Childhood at 1575 Sherman St., Denver, CO 80203-1714 or by phone at 303.866.5958 or 800.799.5876.

Health and Safety

It is our first priority to make sure your child's experience is safe and enjoyable. To ensure the safety of your children during our summer camps we address safety issues throughout all camp activities, all staff are trained in First Aid and CPR. Staff and volunteers interacting with your children are given background checks, and have experience working with children in the outdoors

Please read and pay close attention to the following information:

Health Forms

Health needs of our campers are diverse, ever-changing, and demanding. Having health forms in-hand prior to your camper's arrival at Bird Conservancy's overnight camps is critical & required to ensure the health care staff has adequate time for thorough review. Please send in your health form, physician-signed health form, and the rest of your forms packet NO LATER THAN May 19, 2023. It is EXTREMELY IMPORTANT that ALL sections of these forms are completed in their entirety. In addition, please make sure that a copy of the front and back of your insurance card is sent back to Bird Conservancy as soon as possible, so that the health care administrator can be prepared for your child's check-in. If we do NOT have ALL COMPLETED paperwork in 10 days from the start of camp, your child will NOT be able to come to camp due to CO Child Care Licensing rule/regulation 7.711.31B.

Campers attending Bird Conservancy's overnight camps must have health and accident insurance. We will be in the field for a majority of the time during these programs. In case of an accident, we will be able to transport the individual to a nearby clinic. Cost of treatment arising from an accident or injury, however, is the responsibility of the parent or guardian. It is important for you to indicate on your medical form a proof of insurance and policy number, and to include a photocopy of your insurance card. Please let your insurer know that your child will be attending Taking Flight or On the Wing.

Note: Campers that do not return a completed forms packet will not be allowed to participate in the program.

Health Care on Check-in day

Your child's check-in will include a basic health evaluation performed by Bird Conservancy's Camp Nurse. This consists of, but is not necessarily limited to, a lice check, temperature check, and questions regarding your child's current health condition. All medications brought to camp must be given directly to the medical provider at this time. The only exceptions allowed by CO state law are an inhaler and an epinephrine pen. All medications, both prescribed and over-the-counter must be in their original containers and clearly marked with the child's name, dosage, administration instructions, and signed by their doctor.

Health Care During Camp

Highlands Presbyterian Camp and Retreat Center has a well-equipped Health Center on camp grounds. The Bird Conservancy of the Rockies will provide their own summer camp Nurse. Medications will be dispensed only by the Bird Conservancy's Nurse daily at breakfast, lunch, dinner, and before bedtime. In addition, Bird Conservancy's Camp Manager is certified as a Wilderness First Responder and trained in Medication Administration. The Camp Manager will be the primary Health Care Provider on off-site field trips. The Camp Manager will be carrying necessary medications and a first aid kit at all times.

In all cases, health care staff is available or on call 24 hours a day for general first-aid. Parents will be contacted by the health care staff if a camper's illness or injury requires treatment beyond the scope of the camp health center and more definite medical care must be sought at a local clinic. The medical provider will be in communication with both the clinic and parents regarding the diagnosis, any necessary medications, and the necessary after care treatment. Should such a situation arise, two medical clinics are within a 30-minute drive from camp in Estes Park.

In most instances, campers are usually taken to Timberline Medical, LLC, which is an urgent care center that is open Monday-Friday, 8:00am-6:00pm, and Saturdays, 9:00am-3:00pm. The address for Timberline Medical is 131 Stanley Ave., Ste 202, Estes Park, CO 80517, and the phone number is 970-586-2343.

Should medical attention be required outside of these hours, campers will likely be taken to Estes Park Medical Center, which is fully staffed 24 hours a day, and located at 555 Prospect Ave., Estes Park, CO 80517.

Transportation to and from the clinic is provided by Bird Conservancy staff for non-emergency trips. Ambulance service is provided by Boulder or Larimer County EMS services for emergencies. A Bird Conservancy staff member will be with your child at all times during his/her transport and throughout their entire clinic visit.

Children's Illnesses, Accidents, and Injuries

Written authorization for emergency medical care will be kept in the child's file. Each parent will also provide phone numbers where they and their child's primary physician can be reached.

Bird Conservancy of the Rockies staff members are trained in CPR and First Aid and are present at all times during camp sessions. In case of emergency, illness or injury; staff will evaluate the child(ren) to determine what sort of medical care is needed. Staff may take any of the following steps depending on the severity of the injury or illness.

Non-Life threatening accidents that require medical attention:

Bird Conservancy of the Rockies staff will notify a parent/guardian. If the parent/guardian(s) cannot be reached, designated persons on the injured child's emergency notification card will be notified. If the staff cannot reach any of the emergency contacts, the injured child's physician will be contacted and appropriate actions taken.

Life-threatening Accident:

Bird Conservancy of the Rockies staff will immediately contact 911. After emergency assistance has been requested, the parent/guardian will be notified of the situation. If necessary, the child will be transported by ambulance to the nearest hospital or Timberline Medical. Bird Conservancy of the Rockies maintains an Emergency and Health Information form that gives permission for medical care in an emergency situation.

Parents will be notified immediately in case of illness or serious injury that requires medical attention, and within 48 hours following an accident or illness, a Bird Conservancy of the Rockies incident/accident report will be completed and filed. Reports are kept in the administrative office.

Minor Injuries:

Bird Conservancy of the Rockies staff will handle the minor injuries that occur. Parents will be notified of any minor incidents when they pick up their child at the end of camp.

A medical log will be maintained at camp, in which is recorded the name of the child and date of instances of at least the following:

- Administration of first aid
- Illness of the child while attending the center
- Accident requiring the child to receive medical attention
- Procedures taken

Notification of Parents

Notifying parents/guardians about injury or illness.

Parents/guardians will be notified immediately in the case of any major injury or illness requiring the attention of a doctor or hospital to their camper. Any minor illness or injury that occurred throughout the session will be noted during check-out on the closing day of the camp session. Campers not well enough to stay in their regular cabins will be supervised and cared for in our fully equipped Nurse's Cabin. Campers needing additional care will be seen by our Doctor in Estes Park, or in the case of emergency, campers will be taken to Estes Park Medical Center in Estes Park.

If a decision is made to call a parent/guardian, the Camp Manager /Health Care Provider will contact the parent/guardian. The camper is not permitted to call home.

If a camper has a communicable disease and is contagious, the parents/guardians will be asked to come to camp and take him/her home.

If a camper is generally not feeling well or has a fever, he/she will rest for a full day either in the Highlands Camp Nurse's Cabin or in his/her own cabin. The Health Care Provider will care for the camper. In the event that an off-site trip is planned for that day, a staff member who holds certifications Wilderness First Responder (WFR) and Medication Administration will oversee health care for the rest of the campers. If after a full day of rest, the camper is still not feeling well, the Health Care Provider will explore the possibility of sending the camper home.

Staff members with a communicable illness will not be permitted to work or have contact with children or other staff members if the illness could be readily transmitted during normal working activities.

Bird Conservancy of the Rockies Summer Overnight Camps will report to the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment or its local unit any communicable illness, including but not limited to COVID - 19, measles, mumps, diphtheria, rubella, tuberculosis, shigella, hepatitis, meningitis, salmonella, and giardia, contracted by a staff member or a child in attendance at the center. Children's confidentiality will be maintained.

Altitude Sickness

Some individuals experience negative effects from the higher elevations for the first few days of the program, especially those coming from very low elevations. Symptoms our campers have experienced include everything from fatigue and headaches to nausea.

To lessen the effects of altitude sickness or to prevent it entirely please follow these pieces of advice:

- Progress to higher altitudes slowly.
- Drink plenty of fluids (3-4 quarts per day).
- Drink plenty of fluids prior to leaving for camp.
- Get a week's worth of good sleep prior to your arrival at camp.

Camp Life

Lodging

During Bird Conservancy's Overnight Camps, all campers will be living in a rustic lodge/cabin, with bedrooms and restrooms separated by sex. Female staff members will stay with the girls, and Male staff members will stay with the boys at night. Basic up-keep and cleanliness of the lodge and bathroom facilities is the responsibility of the whole group. Campers will work, play, and live together. As a result, your child will learn about the give and take of group living, have opportunities to develop understanding of other people, and make new friends. Our staff to camper ratio will be maintained at 1 to 10 or lower, with most instances having at least a 1 to 5 ratio.

Food

In most instances, food will be provided by Highlands Presbyterian Camp and Retreat Center staff, and breakfast and dinner will be served in the main lodge. A well-balanced, varied menu will be served, and a vegetarian menu is available. Campers will share in the responsibility of setting the table and post-meal clean-up. Most lunches will be a sack lunch since we will be out hiking during most lunch times. Snacks and pack out meals will be provided by Bird Conservancy and/or Highlands most mornings and afternoons. Food kept in the rooms attracts rodents and other animals, and is therefore prohibited. Please leave candy, gum, and soda at home.

Conduct

Because Taking Flight and On the Wing are conducted primarily in the field, campers must understand that we will be living in close quarters with the same individuals. Males and females will be separated by different rooms of the same cabin at night, and will have access to gender separate restrooms.

In addition, campers will be asked to participate in a wide variety of activities in many different environmental conditions. At times, Bird Conservancy overnight campers may be cold, hot, wet, tired, or even irritated with themselves or other group members; however, they are asked to recognize that these stresses will be good to experience since they resemble real life situations with which we all must learn to successfully cope. Furthermore, campers will be asked to remember that there is a time for everything (a time for fun, a time for work, a time to be serious, a time to be loud, a time to be quiet, etc.), and to therefore be aware of and act accordingly with “what time it is.”

At all times, campers must listen to, and abide by, the rules and requests of Bird Conservancy and Highlands staff for protection of themselves, the group, and the environment. They will be responsible for taking care of themselves and others and at all times and cooperate with program leaders to help the group attain its goals. They will be expected to attend all events throughout the duration of the camp and be responsible for making sure they are at the appropriate place at the appropriate time.

Campers must recognize that Bird Conservancy Bird Camps and Highlands are substance-free programs (i.e. no alcohol, drugs, tobacco, etc.) and that Highlands is a safe place. Therefore, weapons are prohibited. If a camper suspects that someone is in possession of these items at camp, he/she should immediately notify a staff member. Campers are expected to not steal, be disruptive, or destructive to other campers, Bird Conservancy staff, Highlands Camp staff, or their property, and to take responsibility to keep Highlands clean and in good condition.

In summary, we ask that campers conduct themselves in a manner that shows consideration and respect for others. If at any time a camper violates these conditions, parents will be contacted to meet with Bird Conservancy staff and/or the Director of Summer Camp and Youth Events at Highlands. In cases where either repeated or gross violations are made by a camper, they will be dismissed from camp, sent home at the staff’s discretion, and picked up at the parent’s expense. Campers sent home in violation of Bird Conservancy Bird Camps/Highlands rules will not receive a refund.

Highlands Presbyterian Camp has an on-site, outdoor rock climbing area that may be utilized to offer a session of rock climbing to Bird Conservancy's overnight campers. This activity will be led by trained/certified Highlands and Bird Conservancy staff, and will be supervised by Bird Conservancy staff at all times during this activity.
